
AEO & LOCAL SEARCH AUDIT

Cruz Development, audited.

A read on how clearly an Arizona luxury custom home builder shows up in Google, ChatGPT, Perplexity, and the answer engines reshaping how high-intent buyers find their builder.

PREPARED FOR

Cruz Development, LLC
Chandler · Mesa · Glendale,
Arizona

PREPARED BY

Aeolistings
aeolistings.ai

AUDIT WINDOW

April 2026
v1.0

INSIDE THIS REPORT

Contents

01	Executive overview	PAGE 03
02	Business & local search snapshot	PAGE 04
03	Competitor set & comparison	PAGE 05
04	Detailed findings	PAGE 07
05	Strengths vs. gaps at a glance	PAGE 09
06	Key gaps holding back visibility	PAGE 10
07	90-day priority roadmap	PAGE 11
08	Strategic notes	PAGE 13
09	Scope of services & pricing	PAGE 14
10	Investment summary & next step	PAGE 15

A NOTE ON METHOD

This audit is grounded in what's directly observable on each site at time of review. We do not invent rankings, traffic numbers, or backlink counts. Where something is inferred rather than certain, we flag it. Competitors were selected for direct overlap with Eco Roof's primary East Valley intent — they are who an actual customer would weigh against this brand.

01 — EXECUTIVE OVERVIEW

A serious builder shipping a placeholder site.

Cruz Development has a real operational differentiator and a credible founder. The live site doesn't currently reflect either — it ships with placeholder testimonials, mismatched city-page titles, and a trust stack that actively suppresses the brand for $1M+ buyers.

Cruz Development is a 2018-founded luxury custom-home + remodel builder led by Matthew Gallego, with named team members and a defensible "all in house" operational position — no subs, no middleman. The Brad Leavitt podcast appearance signals genuine authority in the Arizona luxury-build community.

That said, the live site is shipping with template defaults that no luxury buyer should see. Homepage testimonials read literally "Enter quote here. — First Last Title of Company." Portfolio cards say "Project Title" and "Excerpt here." The Mesa city page's `<title>` tag still reads "Chandler, Arizona / Cruz Development." The Glendale page's H3 also references Chandler. Each of these is an active credibility leak — and Google reads template artifacts as low-quality signals.

The trust stack is the bigger pattern. No ROC license number, no address, no BBB, no NAHB / HBACA, no manufacturer certifications on the roofing page, no real testimonials, only 2 published case studies. The phone number is 619 (San Diego), not Arizona — a quiet trust deduction for in-state buyers. Competitors at the same age cite hundreds of completed projects and display 2+ ROC numbers.

Local SEO structure: weak. Three city pages exist but two have title-tag bugs from a duplicate scaffold; URL slug patterns are inconsistent (`/locations-chandler-arizona/` vs `/mesa/`); the sitemap is accessible but robots.txt doesn't reference it.

AEO readiness: weak. The site has zero cost content (the highest-leverage AEO query in this category — Mariano & Co. owns it). The southwest brand identity is claimed in conversation but not present in any extracted homepage heading. Forte Homes already lists "Southwest" among 12 styles they build. No LocalBusiness or FAQPage schema confirmed.

Five biggest opportunities, in priority order: (1) replace placeholder testimonials and portfolio cards immediately; (2) fix the city-page title-tag bugs and template artifacts; (3) publish ROC#, address, and bonded/insured language sitewide; (4) build the cost pillar pages competitors don't have; (5) actually claim the southwestern style territory in copy before Forte's existing mention crowds it out.

"The site is shipping with placeholder copy a $1M buyer will see in their first ten seconds. That's not an SEO problem — it's a brand-survival problem."

02 — SNAPSHOT

The basics, as the site communicates them today.

BUSINESS TYPE & SERVICES

Luxury custom homes + spec homes + home improvement / remodel + roofing. Extended: high-end painting, outdoor living, landscaping, custom millwork & cabinetry. Operational position: "all in house, no subs."

IDEAL CUSTOMER (INFERRED)

Arizona high-net-worth buyers commissioning $1M–$3M+ custom homes or substantial remodels — plus architects and developers seeking a vertically-integrated build partner.

SERVICE AREA

Arizona (Chandler, Mesa, Glendale primary) + Utah. Houzz lists HQ at 3278 W Yellow Peak Dr, San Tan Valley, AZ — not displayed on the website itself.

TENURE & TRUST

Founded 2018 by Matthew Gallego · 6+ named team members · Brad Leavitt podcast appearance. No ROC#, BBB, NAHB, or manufacturer certifications surfaced on site.

Key search intents the brand should win

- "luxury custom home builder Chandler AZ"
- "custom home builder Mesa AZ"
- "custom home builder Glendale AZ"
- "luxury home builder near me Arizona"
- "southwestern custom home builder"
- "how much does a custom home cost in Arizona"
- "custom home cost per square foot Chandler"
- "luxury home remodel Phoenix"
- "custom vs spec home Arizona"
- "best custom home builders Arizona"

Where the site aligns — and where it doesn't

Aligns on broad service categorization and on the operational "all in house" claim. Notably vague on the southwestern style identity (the words "southwestern," "Pueblo," "Spanish Colonial," "Santa Fe," "desert architecture" do not appear in any extracted homepage heading). Notably broken on city-specific intent: the Mesa page's title still reads "Chandler"; the Glendale page's H3 references Chandler; both are templated artifacts from a duplicate scaffold. Notably absent on cost / process / comparison content — the highest-leverage AEO category for this audience.

03 — COMPETITOR SET

Three real competitors in Arizona luxury build.

Selected because an actual Arizona high-net-worth buyer researching custom builders in Chandler, Mesa, or Glendale would realistically encounter and compare these three. Starwood Custom and 4 Gen Homes were reviewed but excluded — Starwood plays at $2M–$5M+ and 4 Gen targets a different geographic mix.

Mariano & Co.

marianoco.com

Why selected: Strongest direct overlap — Mesa-based, custom + remodel mix, same East Valley footprint, similar founding window (2009). Best apples-to-apples reference.

Better at: 15 Houzz Awards, 4.9★ Houzz rating, two ROC numbers displayed, 8+ named team, "Your Contractor for Life®" mark, in-house design center, 11 cities served, "Cost of luxury home in Mesa" blog post.

About the same: named-team-with-bios, family-led structure.

Less effective: no homepage FAQ, no dedicated style pages.

Forte Homes

fortehomes.com

Why selected: The "incumbent" in Chandler luxury — same primary city as Cruz's Chandler page, 1993-founded, 30+ years. The brand Cruz must displace.

Better at: ROC #110581, NAHB / BBB / HBACA memberships, Phoenix Business Journal top-10, Best of Scottsdale 2018, press logos on homepage, 12 explicit style ranges (including "Southwest"), "hundreds of bespoke homes."

About the same: service breadth.

Less effective: no FAQ, no real testimonials.

Rodeo Construction

rodeoconstruction.com

Why selected: Closest service-mix match — full-service luxury (custom + remodel + roofing) plus dedicated city pages and a sustainability angle Cruz currently lacks.

Better at: 10 homepage FAQs (the strongest in the set), ROC x2 (AZ + NM), dedicated Scottsdale / Chandler / Glendale pages, sustainable-homes hub page, 18+ years, transparent-pricing claim.

About the same: custom + remodel positioning.

Less effective: 855 toll-free phone (not local), broad service spread.

How the four stack up — at a glance

Scored 1–5 on seven dimensions that drive both traditional search rankings and AI-search citations. Detailed scoring on the next page.

Visibility profile — radar comparison

Higher = stronger on that dimension. Cruz Development in oxblood; competitors in greys.

■ Cruz Development ■ Mariano & Co. ■ Forte Homes ■ Rodeo Construction

03 — COMPETITOR SET, CONTINUED

The detailed scorecard.

Each cell shows a 1–5 score and a short rationale. The Cruz column is highlighted; oxblood bars indicate the target site's score.

DIMENSION	CRUZ DEVELOPMENT	MARIANO & CO.	FORTE HOMES	RODEO CONSTRUCTION
Local positioning clarity	2  619 phone, no address	4  Mesa / Phoenix in title + NAP	4  Chandler-anchored, 30 yrs	3  Scottsdale clear, 855 phone
Service clarity / depth	3  4 service pages, generic FAQs	4  Clear splits + design center	4  12 styles, broad amenities	4  Wide service spread
Service area clarity	1  3 city pages, template bugs	4  11 cities, dedicated pages	3  Cities listed, no unique pages	4  5+ city pages incl. Chandler
FAQ & direct-answer strength	2  Generic, not AZ-specific	3  Resource library, light FAQ	2  No homepage FAQ	4  10 homepage FAQs
Trust & proof signals	1  Placeholder testimonials live	5  15 Houzz Awards, ROC x2	5  NAHB+BBB+HBACA+press	4  ROC x2, transparent pricing
AEO readiness	1  No cost content, no schema	4  Cost article, named team	3  Style coverage, light FAQs	4  Long-form guides, sustainability
Overall findability	2  Not on any "best of" list	4  Well cited across directories	4  PBJ top-10, Best of Scottsdale	4  Broad citation footprint

"Cruz is bottom-of-pack on every dimension that matters — except where placeholder content actively makes things worse."

04 — DETAILED FINDINGS

What we saw, section by section.

4.1 Local SEO structure

Three city pages exist — but two have title-tag bugs from a duplicate scaffold, and the URL patterns are inconsistent. Each is an active local-search ranking factor.

The homepage H1 reads "Elevated Custom Homes & Luxury Remodeling" with a sub-hero "We service Arizona and Utah." Useful framing, but no city anchor in the title or H1 — competitors lead with city + service.

The bigger structural issue is the city pages. The Mesa page's `<title>` tag still reads "Chandler, Arizona | Cruz Development." The Mesa H3 reads "Top Features and Attractions in Chandler." The Glendale page's H3 also says "Chandler." The Glendale page lists the city as founded in both 1892 and 1910 in different spots. H1s are case-inconsistent ("cUSTOM hOMES IN Glendale", "CUSTOM HOMES IN Mesa, ARIZONA"). Each is a templated artifact from a duplicate scaffold that was never cleaned up.

URL slugs are inconsistent: `/locations-chandler-arizona/` vs `/mesa/` vs `/glendale/`. A single canonical pattern (preferably the short one) plus 301 redirects would tighten internal authority. The `robots.txt` is permissive but doesn't reference the sitemap — minor crawler hygiene.

4.2 On-page optimization

Title tags do not combine service + city. Headings are mostly clean. URL slugs are inconsistent (see 4.1). Internal linking is sparse — body copy rarely links contextually between city pages and service pages, leaving topical authority undistributed. Schema markup (LocalBusiness, FAQPage, Organization) was not surfaced in fetched output. The roofing service page contains a misspelling ("Ashpalt") in an H3 — small, but reads as carelessness on a page asking $1M+ buyers to trust the team's attention to detail.

4.3 Service page quality

Four service pages exist — Custom Home, Spec Home, Home Improvement, Roofing — each ~850–1,100 words with 4–6 FAQ entries. That's a reasonable structural baseline. The content is mostly generic luxury-builder copy ("dream homes," "exceptional craftsmanship") without Arizona specificity, named-project examples, or cost ranges. None of the pages embed real testimonials or schema-marked FAQs.

Six concrete improvements:

- Rewrite each service-page FAQ with AZ-specific facts (timeline ranges, cost ranges, lot considerations, HOA quirks, monsoon-season scheduling) — 60–120 word answers for AI citation.
- Embed real client testimonials and 1–2 case studies per service page.
- Add a 5-step process section per page (estimate → design → permit → build → punch list → warranty).
- Add manufacturer certifications to the roofing page (GAF Master Elite, Owens Corning Preferred, CertainTeed SELECT) — table stakes Cruz currently lacks.
- Fix the "Ashpalt" misspelling and any other proof-reading artifacts.
- Add a "what's included / what's not" specification block — luxury buyers expect transparency about allowances and exclusions.

DETAILED FINDINGS, CONTINUED

4.4 Service area & local relevance

Three city pages exist (Chandler, Mesa, Glendale) but each is templated city trivia (population, founded, parks, dining) rather than build-specific content. None reference neighborhoods, ZIP codes, completed projects, or HOA quirks that an actual high-net-worth buyer in Anthem, Las Sendas, Estrella Mountain Ranch, or Whisper Rock would care about. The Mesa and Glendale pages still carry copy referencing Chandler — duplicate-scaffold artifacts.

Off the website: the Houzz profile lists Cruz at 3278 W Yellow Peak Dr, San Tan Valley, AZ 85144. That address is not displayed on the website. NAP inconsistency between Houzz and the (absent) website address is a real ranking suppressor for local search.

4.5 Trust & conversion signals

What's working: Named team of 6+ with bios, founder Matthew Gallego identified, blog footprint of 9 AZ-relevant posts, Houzz profile present, Brad Leavitt podcast appearance.

Gaps relative to competitors:

- Placeholder testimonials still live. Verbatim: "Enter quote here. — First Last Title of Company." Credibility-ending in the first ten seconds for a $1M+ buyer.
- Placeholder portfolio cards. Homepage cards read "Project Title" / "Excerpt here." No published projects above the fold.
- No ROC #, no address, no bonded/insured language. Mariano shows two ROC numbers; Forte adds NAHB / BBB / HBACA; Rodeo shows AZ + NM ROC.
- 619 (San Diego) phone on an Arizona-targeted business — quiet trust deduction.
- No BBB accreditation, no NAHB / HBACA / NARI, no press logos, no awards.
- The Brad Leavitt podcast appearance is underleveraged — strongest existing authority signal, not surfaced on About or homepage with schema.

4.6 AEO & answer-engine readiness

The largest opportunity gap. Luxury build has well-defined buyer questions — cost per square foot, timelines, custom vs spec, style classifications — and Cruz currently produces no extractable answers. Mariano's "Cost of luxury home in Mesa Arizona" blog post is the kind of content LLMs cite; Cruz publishes nothing equivalent. The southwest brand identity isn't present in any extracted homepage heading — Forte already explicitly lists "Southwest" among 12 styles they build.

Six AEO improvements:

- Cost pillar pages: "Custom home cost in Chandler / Mesa / Glendale / AZ" — 1,500+ words each, with FAQ schema.
- "Modern Southwestern Custom Homes in Arizona" hub — claim the style territory before Forte crowds it out.
- Process / timeline page + custom-vs-spec comparison page.
- Schema rollout: LocalBusiness, FAQPage, Organization with sameAs linking GBP, Houzz, IG, podcast.
- Author bylines on every blog post; podcast embed on About.
- Expand case-study library 2 → 8-12 projects with location, scope, timeline, budget range.

05 — STRENGTHS VS. GAPS

What's working, what's holding visibility back.

A diverging view: assets in oxblood pull right; gaps in dark ink pull left. Bar length reflects relative weight on overall findability.

What's already working

Cruz comes into this audit with real assets: a defensible operational position ("all in house, no subs"), a credible founder with a podcast appearance signaling industry authority, a named team of 6+, four service pages with FAQ baselines, a thoughtful blog footprint of 9 AZ-relevant posts, and an active Houzz profile. The brand is real — the site just isn't showing it yet.

Where the gap is real

Most of Cruz's gap is self-inflicted: live placeholder testimonials, two city pages with the wrong city in the title tag, no ROC#, no address, no BBB, no HBACA, no manufacturer certifications, no real portfolio above the fold, no cost content (the highest AEO miss), and a southwest brand identity that exists only in conversation — not on the page. Each is fixable on a 90-day arc.

06 — KEY GAPS

Twelve things holding back visibility today.

Each gap is tagged by impact level — High, Medium, or Foundational — to help prioritize the work.

Placeholder testimonials still live

HIGH

Verbatim "Enter quote here. — First LastTitle of Comany." For a $1M+ buyer this is a credibility-ending signal in seconds.

Mesa page <title> says "Chandler"

HIGH

Templated artifact never cleaned up. Active local-SEO ranking suppression for Mesa custom-home searches.

No ROC#, no address, no BBB on site

HIGH

Every direct competitor displays at least the ROC and address. This is the most visible trust deficit.

Glendale H3 also references Chandler

HIGH

Same duplicate-scaffold artifact. Plus inconsistent founding date (1892 vs. 1910) within the page.

Placeholder portfolio cards on homepage

HIGH

"Project Title" / "Excerpt here" copy in the homepage portfolio block. Above-the-fold credibility leak.

619 (San Diego) phone — no AZ number

MEDIUM

Quiet trust deduction for in-state buyers. AZ tracking number alongside the existing line solves it.

No cost / process / comparison content

HIGH

The single largest AEO miss. Mariano publishes a Mesa cost article LLMs cite; Cruz publishes nothing.

Southwest identity not in site copy

HIGH

Claimed brand differentiator is invisible. Forte already lists "Southwest" among 12 styles they build.

Only 2 published case studies

MEDIUM

For a builder claiming 6+ years, this is a fraction of expected portfolio depth. Mariano lists 6+; Forte claims hundreds.

No NAHB / HBACA / NARI membership

MEDIUM

Industry-association directories are crawled and confer trust. Entry-level citation play Cruz isn't running.

No manufacturer certifications on roofing page

MEDIUM

GAF Master Elite / Owens Corning / CertainTeed are table-stakes for AZ roofing trust.

No LocalBusiness / FAQPage / Org schema

FOUNDATIONAL

Missed structured-data signal. sameAs array linking GBP, Houzz, IG, podcast solves disambiguation too.

07 — 90-DAY ROADMAP

A 90-day arc that compounds.

Sequenced so each phase makes the next one work harder. Fix infrastructure first; rewrite for AI second; build content third; layer in polish fourth.

The infrastructure fixes in week 1 unlock everything downstream — once the Mesa page renders and the sitemap returns 200, every later content investment becomes findable. The AEO rewrites in weeks 2–4 begin producing AI-search citations on a 60–120 day curve.

07 — PRIORITY CHECKLIST

The work, item by item.

Highest priority

0–30 DAYS · QUICK WINS

01	Replace placeholder testimonials. Source 6–10 real client quotes (with names, titles, and project type) and ship today. The single most credibility-damaging item on the site.	SEO + AEO
02	Fix Mesa & Glendale city-page title-tag bugs. Replace "Chandler" references in <title>, H1, and H3 with correct city. Reconcile Glendale founding date.	SEO + AEO
03	Publish ROC#, address, bonded/insured language sitewide footer + contact + service pages. Add Houzz profile link.	SEO + AEO
04	Replace placeholder portfolio cards. Use real 87th Street and Dunlap projects with photos, location, scope.	SEO + AEO
05	Add an AZ tracking number alongside the 619. Trust deduction removed without replacing the owner cell.	CONV.
06	NAP audit + GBP optimization. Reconcile San Tan Valley address across Houzz / GBP / website. Confirm primary GBP category = Custom Home Builder; configure as Service-Area Business including Chandler, Mesa, Glendale.	SEO + AEO

Near-term growth

30–90 DAYS · COMPOUNDING

07	Build cost pillar pages. "Custom home cost in Chandler / Mesa / Glendale, AZ 2026" plus a state-level page. 1,500+ words each. The single highest AEO leverage move.	AEO
08	Build the Modern Southwestern Custom Homes page. Claim the regional style territory before Forte's existing mention crowds it out.	AEO
09	Real case-study buildout — 8–12 projects. Location, scope, timeline, budget range, photos, embedded client quotes.	SEO + AEO
10	Rebuild the city pages from scratch. Less city trivia; more "what it's like to build custom in [city]" — neighborhoods, HOA quirks, lot characteristics, school districts, real client examples.	SEO + AEO
11	Author bylines + Brad Leavitt podcast embed. Surface Matthew Gallego authorship on every blog post; embed the podcast on About with schema.	AEO
12	Reviews program. Target >25 Google reviews and >10 Houzz reviews in 90 days. Owner response template, 100% reply rate <48h.	SEO + AEO

Foundational (ongoing)

CONTINUOUS · COMPOUND VALUE

13	Schema rollout. LocalBusiness + Organization sitewide; FAQPage per page with FAQ; sameAs array linking GBP, Houzz, IG, podcast.	AEO
14	HBACA / NAHB membership pursuit. Forte is HBACA. Directory citations + trust badge.	SEO
15	Manufacturer certifications for the roofing arm. GAF Master Elite, Owens Corning Preferred — pursue and display.	SEO + AEO
16	URL slug consistency. Standardize /locations-chandler-arizona/ vs /mesa/ vs /glendale/ with 301 redirects.	SEO

08 — STRATEGIC NOTES

Where the upside is.

The biggest upside for Cruz is not more services or a different brand — it's making the existing brand actually visible. The operational position is real, the founder is credible, the team is named, and the work is competently delivered. The site simply isn't telling that story yet — and what it is saying is undermining trust before any prospect can see the rest.

A CLEAN ORDER OF OPERATIONS

Stop the bleeding. Build the trust stack. Own the queries. Compound.

1. Stop the bleeding first. Replace placeholder testimonials, fix the city-page title-tag bugs, publish ROC + address + bonded/insured. None of this requires content work — all of it removes credibility leaks visible in the first ten seconds.
2. Then build the trust stack. Real case studies, HBACA membership, manufacturer certifications, NAP reconciliation, GBP optimization, reviews program. This is the work that turns Cruz from "credible enough" into "the obvious choice."
3. Then own the queries competitors don't. Cost pillar pages for Chandler / Mesa / Glendale / AZ. The "Modern Southwestern Custom Homes" hub. Process and comparison content. This is what makes Cruz the answer ChatGPT and Perplexity surface for high-intent buyer questions.
4. Then compound. Schema rollout, internal linking, weekly Google Posts, ongoing review velocity, monthly cost-content. The work that doesn't feel like much in any given week, but in 12 months separates Cruz from peers who only ever did the "stop the bleeding" stage.

None of this requires the brand to become something it isn't. Cruz is a serious builder with a credible founder and a defensible operational position. The site just has to start saying that — clearly, locally, and structurally enough that both human buyers and AI assistants can recognize it. That's a 90-day arc. The brand on the other side of it is the one Cruz already is, just finally legible.

09 — SCOPE OF SERVICES

Closing the gaps.

A scope built around the audit's findings — not a stock package. Each one-time line item below maps directly to gaps identified earlier in this report. Pricing follows our standard founding-client structure for early Phoenix-area clients.

Website Creation & On-Site AEO Optimization

$7,500

A custom 7–9 page site replacing the current placeholder-laden WordPress build. Homepage, About (with podcast embed and named-expert bios), services hub + 4 service pages, 3 rebuilt city pages (Chandler, Mesa, Glendale) with corrected templates, real testimonials and case-study integration, portfolio gallery, schedule-a-consultation flow. Mobile-first, fast, hosted on Cloudflare Pages. LocalBusiness, Organization, Service, and FAQPage schema on every relevant page. Answer-ready copy designed to be quoted by ChatGPT, Claude, Perplexity, and Google AI Overview. One round of revisions included.

CLOSES GAPS: Placeholder testimonials · Placeholder portfolio cards · City-page template bugs · Inconsistent URL slugs · No schema · Brand-led titles · Internal linking · Generic service copy

AEO Authority Content Pack

$2,750

5 pillar pages built to be cited by AI assistants: cost-per-square-foot guides for Chandler, Mesa, and Glendale; a "Modern Southwestern Custom Homes in Arizona" hub page (claims the style territory before Forte's existing mention); a "Custom home vs spec home in Arizona" comparison page; and a 12-month process timeline page. Each ~1,500 words with FAQ schema.

CLOSES GAPS: No cost / process / comparison content · Southwest identity invisible · AEO readiness

Trust Signal Buildout

$1,750

Source and integrate 6–10 real client testimonials (with names, project type, locations). Expand the published portfolio from 2 to 8–12 case studies (location, scope, timeline, budget range, photos). Surface ROC#, address, bonded/insured. Embed the Brad Leavitt podcast appearance with schema. Add author bylines on every blog post. Coordinate HBACA / NAHB membership pursuit and display.

CLOSES GAPS: Placeholder testimonials · 2-project portfolio · No ROC / address / BBB · No NAHB / HBACA · Underleveraged podcast appearance

Google Business Profile Optimization

$1,250

Full GBP claim & rebuild. Confirm primary category = Custom Home Builder. Configure as Service-Area Business with Chandler, Mesa, Glendale explicitly. Reconcile NAP across Houzz / GBP / website. Categories audited, services described in buyer language, attributes completed. Photo strategy with shoot guidance. Q&A seeded. Review-request workflow that points to Google specifically. Duplicate-listing & name-collision resolution (cruzdevelopment.com).

CLOSES GAPS: NAP inconsistency · Local-pack visibility · 619 phone trust gap · Reviews going to wrong platform · Name-collision risk

One-time scope subtotal	$13,250
Founding-client discount (25%)	-$3,313
One-time total	$9,937

10 — RECURRING & INVESTMENT SUMMARY

The work that compounds.

One-time work fixes the leaks and builds the structure. The retainer is what keeps Cruz showing up in AI search as the models evolve and competitors react.

AEO Authority + Operations Retainer

~~$1,500/mo~~ $1,000 /month

40–60 buyer-intent prompts tracked monthly across ChatGPT, Claude, Perplexity, Gemini, and Google AI Overview — so we know exactly when Cruz starts (or stops) being cited for "best luxury custom home builder Chandler" and similar high-intent queries. Three custom-build / southwest-design / cost-content blog posts per week (~13/month, AEO-optimized for direct retrieval). Review-velocity program (Google + Houzz). Tactical adjustments when models shift. Weekly performance summary and a written quarterly strategy review.

FOUNDING-CLIENT PRICING — discounted from $1,500/mo standard. Cancel anytime with one email, no forms or retention pitches.

Investment summary

LINE ITEM	INVESTMENT
One-time scope (four services above)	$13,250
Founding-client discount (25%)	–$3,313
One-time total — 50% on acceptance, 50% on launch	$9,937
AEO Retainer — begins 1st of month after launch	$1,000/mo

Optional add-on — Social media foundation & management

For luxury builders, social is high-leverage on Instagram (project tours, before/after) and selectively useful on TikTok (process content). If Cruz wants a steady social presence tied to job-site photos and short-form video, available as an add-on with the same founding-client pricing.

Social media foundation (one-time)	$750	Social media management (recurring)	$1,500/mo
------------------------------------	--------------	-------------------------------------	-------------------

QUOTE VALIDITY

30 days from issue

START WINDOW

7 business days from acceptance

CANCELLATION

One email — no forms or retention

OWNERSHIP

Cruz retains all deliverables

NEXT STEP

A 30-minute call to walk through the audit.

Bring questions. We'll walk the findings on screen, talk through what you'd want to keep or cut from the scope above, and tell you on the call if the math doesn't work for your business — rather than walk you through a pitch.

Aeolistings · aeolistings.ai · AEO & Local Visibility for Service Businesses