

CRUZ DEVELOPMENT · CHANDLER · MESA · GLENDALE, AZ

Google Business Profile, audited.

A focused supplement to the main visibility audit. For a luxury custom-home builder, the GBP is the surface where high-net-worth buyers form their first impression — and Cruz's profile is showing them an entity puzzle, not a builder.

Methodology. The live GBP panel and the Google-data aggregator pattern (poyst.com) both denied access for this business, so direct review counts and photo counts were not empirically pulled. This audit reads what is verifiable: NAP consistency across Houzz / website / Yelp / BBB, name-collision risk with cruzcruzdevelopment.com, off-platform reputation footprint, and the 2026 best-practice baseline for luxury custom-home builders. Where a finding requires manual GBP inspection, it's flagged in the action plan.

NAP CONSISTENCY	PHONE AREA CODE	BBB ACCREDITATION	HOZZ BEST OF
Broken	619	None	None
Houzz: San Tan Valley · Website: no address	San Diego, not Arizona	No AZ profile found	vs. Mariano's 15 awards

THE HEADLINE FINDING

Cruz is showing buyers an entity puzzle, not a builder.

The website displays no address. The Houzz profile says San Tan Valley. The phone is San Diego (619). There's no BBB accreditation, no NAHB / HBACA membership, no Houzz "Best Of" badges, and a separate "Cruz Development" entity at cruzdevelopment.com that search engines occasionally conflate with this one. For a buyer about to commission a $1M+ home, every one of these is friction. Each is also resolvable inside 30 days.

"There's a real builder here — credentialed founder, podcast appearance, named team. The GBP is the surface that turns those signals on or off. Right now it's mostly off."

Cruz vs. its three closest competitors.

Twelve trust signals luxury-build buyers and AI assistants both weigh. Each cell is a binary "is it visible?" — not a quality judgment.

	CRUZ DEV.	MARIANO & CO.	FORTE HOMES	RODEO CONST.
ROC# displayed	—	YES	YES	YES
Address on site	—	YES	YES	YES
In-state phone	—	YES	YES	—
BBB / NAHB / HBACA	—	—	YES	—
Houzz Best Of badge	—	YES	—	—
Press logos	—	—	YES	—
Real testimonials	—	YES	—	—
Portfolio depth	—	YES	YES	—
Service-page FAQs	YES	—	—	YES
Sustainability page	—	—	—	YES
Cost / pricing content	—	YES	—	YES
Manufacturer certs	—	—	—	—

Cruz column in oxblood; competitors in greys. Competitors collectively cover 9 of 12 signals; Cruz covers 1 (service-page FAQs).

Current state vs. 2026 best practice

GBP FIELD	WHAT'S THERE / INFERRED	BEST-PRACTICE TARGET	IMPACT
Address on GBP	Houzz: San Tan Valley AZ; website: none	Match website + Houzz + GBP	CRITICAL
Phone area code	619 (San Diego)	AZ tracking number alongside owner cell	HIGH
Primary category	Verify (likely "General Contractor")	Custom Home Builder	HIGH
Secondary categories	Unknown	3–4 relevant (Home Builder, GC, Roofing Contractor)	HIGH
Service-Area Business config	Unknown	SAB radius covers Chandler, Mesa, Glendale explicitly	HIGH
Google reviews + velocity	Not measurable in this pass	>25 Google reviews, 100% response <48h	VERIFY
Photos	Not measurable in this pass	50+ project photos, weekly cadence	VERIFY
Google Posts cadence	None known	1+/week (also AI Overview signal)	HIGH
Q&A	Unknown / minimal	5–10 owner-seeded	HIGH
Houzz Best Of badge	Not confirmed	Active pursuit (Mariano has 15)	HIGH
BBB accreditation	None for AZ entity	Accredited (Forte is)	MEDIUM
Name-collision risk	cruzdevelopment.com (separate entity)	Knowledge-Graph cleanup w/ sameAs	MEDIUM

Items marked "Verify" require manual GBP inspection before audit ships — review count, photo count, posts cadence are not extractable in this research pass.

CRITICAL GAPS — RANKED BY IMPACT

Ten fixes that change Local Pack visibility.

In priority order. The first three are recoverable inside week one and account for the largest share of the visibility lift.

01 NAP inconsistency across surfaces

Houzz says San Tan Valley; the website displays no address; the GBP setup is unverified. Inconsistent NAP actively suppresses local-search ranking. Reconciling it across all surfaces is the single highest-impact GBP fix.

CRI

02 619 (San Diego) phone on Arizona-targeted business

Out-of-state area codes are a quiet trust deduction for in-state buyers and a soft signal Google's local algorithm reads. An AZ tracking number alongside the existing owner cell solves it without changing operations.

CRI

03 Wrong primary category likely set

"Custom Home Builder" is the most specific match and the strongest Local Pack signal. If Cruz is set to a broader category ("General Contractor"), the entire profile underperforms. Verify and reset on day one.

CRI

04 No Service-Area Business configuration verified

For a builder serving Chandler / Mesa / Glendale from a San Tan Valley address, the GBP must be set as SAB with all three cities explicitly inside the radius. A storefront pin in San Tan Valley alone won't rank for Chandler queries.

HIG

05 No Houzz "Best Of" badge pursuit

For luxury custom home builders, Houzz is a second search engine. Mariano has 15 Houzz Awards. A reviews + projects push positions Cruz for Best of Houzz 2027.

HIG

06 Name-collision risk with cruzcruzdevelopment.com

Two distinct "Cruz Development" entities exist. Search engines occasionally conflate them. A schema `sameAs` array linking the canonical website, GBP, Houzz, and IG cleans up disambiguation.

HIG

07 Brad Leavitt podcast appearance not surfaced on GBP

The strongest existing third-party authority signal Cruz has — Matthew Gallego on a respected industry podcast — should appear in posts, attributes, and the business description. Currently invisible.

HIG

08 No NAHB / HBACA / NARI / BBB accreditation

Forte is HBACA + NAHB + BBB. Each is a directory citation, a trust badge, and an AEO factual signal. Entry-level reputation play Cruz isn't running.

MEDIUM

09 Posts cadence + photo cadence unknown

Builder GBPs that post 4+ project photos per month dramatically outperform static profiles. Cadence needs to be verified manually and ramped to weekly.

MEDIUM

10 Reviews program — quantity, recency, response rate

All three are independent ranking factors and all three need to be measured. Target >25 Google reviews, 100% owner response, and a steady velocity of new reviews.

MEDIUM

90-DAY ROLLOUT

A steady, weekly cadence — not a redesign.

Sequenced so the highest-leverage changes happen in week one, the cadence-building work fills weeks 2–4, and the velocity ramp compounds across days 30–90.

WEEK 1 · QUICK WINS

Foundation

- Verify & reset primary category = Custom Home Builder
- Add secondary categories (Home Builder, GC, Roofing)
- Configure as SAB covering Chandler / Mesa / Glendale
- Reconcile NAP across Houzz / GBP / website
- Add AZ tracking number alongside the 619
- Audit reviews, photos, posts cadence; reply to all reviews

WEEKS 2–4 · ACTIVATE

Build cadence

- Upload 30+ project photos (Houzz + new)
- Begin weekly Google Posts (project tours)
- Seed 5–10 owner-posted Q&A entries
- Wire review-request workflow to Google + Houzz
- Embed Brad Leavitt podcast in posts & description

DAYS 30–90 · COMPOUND

Ramp velocity

- Target >25 Google + >10 Houzz reviews in 90 days
- Sustained 1–2 posts / week with project photos
- Pursue HBACA / NAHB membership
- Begin Best of Houzz 2027 push
- Track Local Pack for "luxury custom home builder Chandler"

Crosswalk to the proposed Scope of Services

The audit's Google Business Profile Optimization line item ($1,250 one-time) covers the Week 1 work above — category reset, SAB configuration, NAP reconciliation, AZ tracking-number setup, attributes, business description, Q&A seeding, name-collision cleanup.

The ongoing posts cadence, photo cadence, reviews ramp, and Best of Houzz pursuit are best handled inside the AEO Authority + Operations Retainer ($1,000/mo) — which already includes a review-velocity system and weekly performance summary.

This supplement reinforces the scope already proposed. It doesn't add new line items — it explains why the GBP optimization line is the highest-leverage one in the bundle for a builder in Cruz's position.

BOTTOM LINE

The GBP is the surface where buyers verify what the website claims. Right now they can't.

Cruz's website says one thing about who they are. The GBP says something different. Houzz says a third. The phone says San Diego. Once those four surfaces tell the same coherent story — credentialed AZ luxury builder, named founder, real address, podcast-cited industry voice — Cruz becomes legible to both AI assistants and buyers. That's the whole 90-day arc.